The information officer will take into consideration section ... of the manual to decide on whether or not access to any of the information stated above should be given to the requester.

6. Decision making process

- 6.1. In terms of Section 55, the information officer will take all reasonable steps to find a record that has been requested. If the record cannot be found or does not exist, the information officer must notify the requester by way of affidavit or affirmation, that it is not possible to give access to the record. This is deemed to be a refusal of the request. If, however, the record is later found, the requester must be given access if the requester would otherwise have been granted.
- 6.2. Section 56 provides that the information officer must within 30 days of receipt of a correctly completed request; notify the requester of the decision as to whether or not to grant the request. If the request is:
  - 6.2.1. Granted: the notification must state the applicable access fee required to be paid, together with the procedure to be followed should the requester wish to apply to court against such fee, and the form in which access will be given.
  - 6.2.2. Declined: the notification must include adequate reasons for the decision, together with the relevant provisions of the Act relied upon, and provide the procedure to be followed should the requester wish to apply to court against the decision.

- 6.3. The information officer may extend the period of 30 days by a further period not exceeding 30 days if:
  - 6.3.1. The requester is for a large number of records or requires a search through a large number of records;
  - 6.3.2. Consultation between divisions of (insert name of organisation), or with another private body is required; or
  - 6.3.3. The requester consents to the extension

The requester must be notified within the initial 30-day period in writing of the extension, together with reasons therefore, and the procedure involved should the requestor wish to apply to court against the extension.

The information officer's failure to respond to the requester within the 30-day period constitutes a deemed refusal of the request.

- 6.4. Section 59 provides that the information officer may sever a record and grant access only to that portion which the law does not prohibit access to.
- 6.5. If access is granted, access must be given in the form that is reasonably required by the requester, or if the requester has not identified a preference, in a form reasonably determined by the information officer.

7. Third Parties

If the request is for record pertaining to a third party, the information officer must take all reasonable steps to inform that third party of the request. This must be done within 21 days of receipt of the request. The manner in which this is done must in the fastest means reasonably possible, but if orally, the information officer must thereafter give the third party a written confirmation of the notification. The third party may within 21 days thereafter either make representations to SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd) as to why the request should be refused, alternatively grant written consent to the disclosure of the record. The third party must be advised of the decision taken by the information officer on whether to grant or decline the request, and must also be advised of his/her/its right to appeal against the decision by way of application to court within 30 days after the notice.

8. Grounds for Refusal of a Request

Notwithstanding compliance with section 50, the request may be declined in accordance with one of the prescribed grounds in terms of the Act, namely:

- 8.1. Section 63 of the Act prohibits the unreasonable disclosure of the personal information of natural-person third parties to requestors. This includes the personal information of deceased persons. However, Section 63 (2) does provide exceptions to this.
- 8.2. Section 64 states that a request must be refused if it relates to records containing third party information pertaining to:
  - 8.2.1. Trade secrets;
  - 8.2.2. Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information where disclosure would be likely to cause harm to the commercial or financial interests of that third party; or
  - 8.2.3. Information, supplied in confidence by the third party, the disclosure of which could reasonably be expected to put the third party at a disadvantage in contractual or other negotiations, or prejudice the third party in commercial competition.

The information must, however, be released if it pertains to the results of products or environmental testing, the disclosure of which would reveal a serious public safety or environmental risk.

- 8.3. Section 65 prohibits disclosure of information if such disclosure would constitute a breach of any duty of confidentiality owed to a third party in terms of an agreement.
- 8.4. In terms of Section 66, SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd) must refuse a request for access to a record of the body if disclosure could reasonably be expected to:
  - 8.4.1. Endanger the life or physical safety of an individual;
  - 8.4.2. Prejudice or impair the security of a building, structure or system, including but not limited to a computer or communication system, means of transport or any other property;
  - 8.4.3. SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd) may also refuse a request for access to information that would prejudice methods, systems, plans or procedures for the protection of an individual in accordance with a witness protection scheme or safety of the public.
- 8.5. Section 67 mandates the refusal of a request if the record is privileged from production in legal proceedings, unless the person entitled to the privilege has waived the privilege.
- 8.6. Section 68 pertains to records containing information about (insert name of organisation) itself and unlike the other provisions pertaining to declination of a request, is not mandatory, but rather discretionary. SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd) may refuse access to a record if the record:
  - 8.6.1. Contains trade secrets of SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd);

- 8.6.2. Contains financial, commercial, scientific or technical information, the disclosure of which would be likely to cause harm to the commercial or financial interests of SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd);
  - 8.6.3. Contains information which, if disclosed, could reasonably be expected to put SmartInsure a (division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd) at a disadvantage in contractual or other negotiations, or prejudice SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd) in commercial competition; or
  - 8.6.4. Consists of a computer program owned by SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd).
  - 8.6.5. Notwithstanding the above, the information must be released if it pertains to the results of product or environmental testing, the disclosure of which would reveal a serious public safety or environmental risk.
- 8.7. Section 69 prohibits the disclosure of information about research where disclosure is likely to expose the third party, the person conducting the research on behalf of the third party, or the subject matter of the research to serious disadvantage. Disclosure is discretionary if such research pertains to SmartInsure (a division of Insurance Busters (Pty) Ltd) itself.
- 8.8. Notwithstanding any of the above-mentioned provisions, section 70 provides that a record must be disclosed if its disclosure would:
- 8.8.1. Reveal evidence of a substantial contravention of or failure to comply with the law, imminent and serious public safety or environmental risk; and
  - 8.8.2. If the public interest in the disclosure clearly outweighs the harm.

9. Rights of Appeal

- 9.1. A requestor that is dissatisfied with the information officer's refusal to grant access to any information may, within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to court for relief. Likewise, a third party dissatisfied with the information officer's decision to grant a request may, within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to court for relief.
- 9.2. It should be noted that notwithstanding any provision in this Act, the court may examine the record (s) in question. No record may be withheld from the court in any grounds. The court may not, however, disclose the contents of the record (s).
- 9.3. The court is empowered to grant any order that is just and equitable, including:
  - 9.3.1. Confirming, amending or setting aside the information officer's decision;
  - 9.3.2. Requiring the information officer to take any action, or refrain from taking any action as identified by the court within a specified period;
  - 9.3.3. Granting an interdict, interim or special relief, declaratory order or compensation; or an order as to costs.
